Question: Does this have a reflector that has to be lined up across from it or is it just the box shown in the picture?

Answer: No, there is no reflector. To reflect the visitor's meter enough of the wall or other object without movement. If the beam does not reflect why, it will also be considered, just the accuracy will be lower. Watch the video on Youtube, there in detail and visually tell about it. <https://youtu.be/vkFt6NbgkU0>

Question: Prompt please, the counter counts the incoming and outgoing of people or just those visitors that come in the door?

Answer: Thank you for your question! Visitors counter considers each interrupt the beam, when a person enters and leaves. To get the number of visitors, you need to sum the display counter divided by 2.

Verified Purchase

I'm very happy with this purchase!

The seller has excellent support. The first day I had a poor accuracy of counting people, and I wrote to the seller, he asked me to send some photos how the counter was installed and then sent a photo in response with an adjustment where it's worth to set the visitor counter and really the accuracy became much better.

Great deal!
